Dear Praying Friends,

John 9:4 says, "I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work." As we look forward to serving in the Heart of Uruguay, we sense an urgency to be fervent about the Lord's work. The last few months of winter found us in ten different churches presenting our burden to plant churches in Uruguay's interior. We were able to take part in the missions conference at Pillsbury Baptist Bible College and to be encouraged at the Men for Christ Rally.

We praise the Lord for the many rich opportunities to minister in these settings. These many opportunities were made possible due to an increase in our support level. We praise the Lord for allowing us to reach 35%. This is the percent that we were counseled to reach in order to quit my secular job. Thus, my last day was March 2. As of late, it had been increasingly difficult to travel away from home and to hold down a regularly scheduled job.

Another praise is the wonderful encouragement provided to us by our sending church. On March 21, we were able to move into the ministry home of the church. We are now able to live very inexpensively and enjoy our neighbors on the top floor who are missionaries going to the country of Chile. What a blessing to share ideas and helps with those who have similar goals. Please note our new address at the bottom of this prayer letter.

As we look to the coming months, please pray that we will focus on the truly important. Our desire is not just to go and raise support, but also to be a blessing to churches. We are extremely grateful for every opportunity to present the Gospel, to encourage pastors, and to challenge others to go into missions as we explain our strategy of church planting in Uruguay.

While we have been busy serving the Lord in the US, life continues to progress in Uruguay. We continue to receive strong encouragement from family and missionaries in Uruguay to come as soon as possible. Jo Anna's sister's family is eagerly waiting to meet Felicia, who is now eighteen months old. In addition, another missionary wanted us to come and house-sit for them during a nine-month furlough. This would have been an ideal opportunity for free rent during language training, but the timing was not right for us. We are content knowing that the Lord's timing is always best, so we continue to follow Jo Anna's father's final advice to, "Stay Focused."

Thank you, for your continued prayers on our behalf!

Going to the Heart of Uruguay,

Paul, Jo Anna, & Felicia
